

LP GAS IS A SAFE, CLEAN, INSTANT, PORTABLE AND AFFORDABLE ENERGY SOLUTION. HOWEVER, TO ENSURE YOUR SAFETY, ALWAYS BUY GAS FROM A FULLY COMPLIANT LP GAS DISTRIBUTOR THAT ONLY SELLS LEGALLY FILLED CYLINDERS.

Do Not Buy Illegally Refilled or Traded Gas Cylinders

Your safety - and that of your family and community - should never be compromised. Purchasing illegally refilled commercially branded gas cylinders from unauthorized sources is dangerous, irresponsible, and unlawful.

Why you should not purchase illegally refilled gas cylinders:

- Fueling the Illegal Trade : Buying illegally filled cylinders from non-compliant distributors contributes to the spread of dangerous and unlawful practices. You are supporting criminal activity.
- Jeopardizing Insurance Claims : An incident involving a illegally filled cylinder, could jeopardise claims to your insurance, leaving you financially and legally vulnerable.
- Breaking the Law : Buying illegally refilled gas cylinders is an offense and a contravention of the Pressure Equipment Regulations of South Africa, Section 17.1.9(a).
- Lack of Safety Compliance : Illegally refilled gas cylinders are not guaranteed to meet required safety standards. Only trained professionals using approved equipment can safely refill gas containers.
- Unsafe Cylinders : The original owners of the cylinders have not inspected or maintained them for safe use. This increases the risk of malfunction and gas leakage.
- Under filled Cylinders : Illegally filled cylinders is always much cheaper, often because you get less gas than what you are paying for.
- Overfilled Cylinders : It is particularly risky to use a cylinder that has been overfilled by untrained staff using uncompliant equipment.
